FOUR HALIBUT TRIPS IN TODAY

Capt. Thomas Crowell of Sch Titania Fell in Hold and Hurt Arm.

Halibut was in good receipt at this port today, four trips being in since Saturday.

Capt. Thomas Crowell of the Titania was hurt on the trip out, falling into the hold and receiving an injury to his arm, so that he is carrying that member in a sling.

Sch. Lillian is here from Tremont, Maine with a cargo of cured fish for the Cunningham & Thompson Company.

DO WELL ON NEW HALIBUT BANKS

The reports to the Bureau of Fisheries from Edwin J. Brown, local agent in charge of the bureau's office in Seattle, showing the cargoes of fish received daily at that port during the first 15 days of June, indicate remarkable results from the halibut fisheries on the newly defined banks immediately off the coasts of Oregon and Washington. From these banks, which are reported by name as the Newport, the Columbia River, the Willapa, and the Grays Harbor banks, there were taken by the vessels arriving at Seattle during the period stated a total of 985,000 pounds of halibut, which is more than half of the halibut delivered at that port in this period. This total was divided among the new banks as follows: From Newport and Columbia River banks, 640,000 pounds; from Willapa banks, 225,000 pounds; from Grays Harbor banks, 120,000 pounds.

The above results are very satisfactory to the Bureau of Fisheries as indicating the development of important banks adjacent to our coast and near to the ports of the States of Oregon and Washington. It is expected that when the full area of these banks is developed by further surveys to be taken this summer this business may be considerably increased.—Consular and Trade Reports.

FISHING GAZETTE ON "BONED" FISH

The Fishing Gazette in its report of the recent hearing before the Treasury Department at Washington as to whether a "green" codfish is "boned" fish or something else says:

"The hearing to determine whether a green cod with part of its anatomy extracted for salting purposes is or is not a 'boned' fish was held at Washington, D. C., last Monday. Decision was reserved, but the Gloucester delegation made a very convincing impression and well sustained their contention that a complete boneless fish was one thing and that a whole green cod with only part of it anatomy removed for practical salting quite another. Of course the question is of the greatest importance, because millions of pounds of cod come from Newfoundland free of duty, according to the provisions of the last tariff law, but 'boned' or 'boneless' fish are subjected to a tax of three-fourths of a cent per pound, and there has been some intent to apply the terms 'boned' or 'boneless' to green cod, though with obvious injustice."

In the same connection, the Fishing Gazette says editorially:

"The salt fish merchants of New York, Gloucester, Canada, and everywhere else, have something to think about. To sift it down to straight-out fact, it seems to be a question whether the United States Government is not putting itself in an extremely discreditable light. After giving assurances that green fish shall be admitted free of duty and advancing a receipt of duty clear for such fish, the officials of the Government, or the Treasury Department, has suddenly decided that they have made a mistake and that they will charge a duty, regardless of the fact that the fish have been sold, based, of course, upon a price that did not have an allowance for the duty of the future. This kind of a deal has been put over on the Pacific Coast, where salmon with just the backs removed were brought from British Columbia, and now the same principle arises with respect to Newfoundland green cod, which, even with the head or some other part of the anatomy removed, some Treasury officials declare is 'boned' fish and is therefore subject to a duty of three-fourths of a cent a pound. The word 'boned' is not interpreted as to exact meaning in the statute. Are the codfish handlers of Gloucester and other places going to be soaked three-fourths of a cent per pound as a revenue duty on the millions of pounds of green cod which have been heretofore admitted free into the United States?"

New N. F. Fish Concern.

The Newfoundland American Packing Company of St. John's, N. F., has been organized, with general offices in the Mercantile Exchange building, New York. The concern will handle all kinds of Newfoundland products. E. St. John Howley is manager.

Pensacola Fishing News.

Thirteen vessels reached port during the week ending June 20, with a total of 143,965 pounds of fish, of which 125,975 pounds were red snapper and 17,990 pounds grouper. The percentage of grouper was smaller than usual. Seven of the vessels were for E. E. Saunders & Company, and had 75,645 pounds of fish, 68,000 pounds being red snapper and 8,645 pounds of grouper. The six to the Warren Fish Company had 68,345 pounds of fish, of which, 59,080 pounds were red snapper and 9,265 pounds grouper. It will be noticed that the Warren boats had the most red snapper, vessels of the Warren fish had the most grouper. There was only one really large catch, and that was made by one of the Saunders boats. There were 21,145 pounds red snappers and 2330 pounds grouper. The next largest catch was made by a Warren boat and consisted of 15,635 pounds of fish, of which 13,845 pounds were red snapper and 1,790 pounds grouper. One of the Warren arrivals was the Princess, from Panama City, Fla. The catch was 10,160 pounds of fish. Following were arrivals:

E. E. Saunders & Company—Idea Brooks, 11,025 pounds red snapper, 830 pounds grouper; Emily Enos, 1,140 pounds red snapper, 1285 pounds grouper; Wallace A. McDonald 94 pounds red snapper, 1455 pounds grouper; Lottie G. Howard, 83 pounds red snapper, 890 pounds grouper; Yakima, 21,145 pounds red snapper, 2330 pounds grouper; Nautica, 3720 pounds red snapper, 590 pounds grouper; Albert Geiger, 2080 pounds red snapper, 370 pounds grouper.

Warren Fish Company—Chicopee, 13,845 pounds red snapper, 1790 pounds grouper; Galatea, 2240 pounds red snapper, 10,090 pounds red snapper, 2000 pounds grouper; Princess, 8625 pounds red snapper, 2160 pounds grouper; Clara P. Sewall, 1,160 pounds red snapper, 1330 pounds grouper; Emma Jane, 11,120 pounds red snapper, 2120 pounds grouper.

LITTLE GIRL WAS SPONSOR

Elsie G. Silva Christe
Papa's New Vessel at Pretty Launching.

The new knockabout sch. Elsie Silva built for Capt. Manuel Silva & Schwartz & Bernstein was launched at Lantz's boat yard, Vincent Cove, flood tide yesterday forenoon. The sponsor for the craft was little Elsie G. Silva, the eight-year-old daughter of Capt. Silva for whom the craft is named. The little miss broke a bottle of champagne over the vessel's bow as she slid off the ways.

SWORDFISH THE MAIN FEATURE

New Fish Pier Has Five Fair Sized Trips in This Morning.

Swordfish have commenced to arrive in good quantity, five fares being at Boston since yesterday with a total of 243 fish. Considering the large amount, prices held up well, the wholesalers paying 13.6 cents and 13.8 cents a pound.

Some nice fares of groundfish from off shore arrived but on account of the low market, it is likely that some of them will come here to split. The largest trips reporting at the Boston fish pier were schs. Mary F. Sears, 105,000 pounds fresh fish, 5000 pounds fresh halibut; Pontiac, 66,000 pounds; Robert and Arthur, 90,000 pounds; Mary C. The salt mackerel fare of sch. Reading sold to Fred Bradley at $9.00 a barrel.

The local steamers did but little yesterday off here, two of the larger crafts and one or two small boats arriving. Mackerel were sighted, but the schools were generally wild and the crafts reported difficulty in stopping them.

The Salt Mackerel Market.

Said a prominent importer of fish-stuffs last Tuesday: "There is decidedly better feeling in the mackerel market, and demand is somewhat better, although not at all satisfactory as yet."

There was one transaction recorded in Norway mackerel recently which gives an inkling as to the range of price quotations, though the prices are said to have been f. o. b. shipping point, that is in Norway. There were 600 barrels that changed hands and the prices were $25 for 1s, $20 for 2s, $16 for 3s, $14.50 for 4s, $10.85 for 5s. This consignment was not sold to come to New York. It is going farther into the States.

"Well, I have some Norway mackerel on the ship that arrived today (Wednesday) and I am going to sell them, too. It looks pretty good for shore mackerel this year," said the New York manager of a well-known New York fish house.—Fishing Gazette.

Portland Sardine Plant Nearly Ready.

The factory of the Portland Products Company of Portland is completed as to outside construction, and now is being fitted with machinery in anticipation of beginning work early in July. The factory is about 225 feet long, of wood, and will have a capacity of 500 to 800 cases of sardines a day.

HEAVY FINES FOR HARBOR SEINING

Fines aggregating $335 were imposed in the District Court in Lynn last week upon nine of the 17 Boston fishermen arrested early that morning by Deputy Game Commissioner Burney and Harbor Master Saunders for violating the laws relative to seines. The complaints against the other eight were filed, as they showed that they were employed by the skippers of the boats. The skippers fined $75 were Salvador Cacivier, Frank Fisighella and Alfred Pass. Louis Camp, Joseph Garet, Angelo Marino and Joseph Parina were fined $20 each; Siguard Anderson and John McLaughlin $15. All appealed. There were four boats which the two officers easily overhauled, but a fifth party tried to get away, and for more than a mile Harbor Master Saunders chased them before he was able to overhaul the fleeing fishermen. They threatened to put up a fight, but Burney pulled a revolver and declared that he was ready to use it if any one started trouble. The weapon was not needed, as the fishermen realized that Burney meant business.

DOWN AND UP AT FULTON MARKET

Business in the salt water fish market was poor during the first part of the week. Later on it began to pick up and just about the time that it showed signs of improvement, stock began to get scarce and prices advanced. At the same time there was an abundance of fish at low prices to be had at all times during the week. Stock that was high in price was of the varieties that were in the most demand, fancy fish for which buyers were willing to pay well if they obtained just what they wanted.

Western white halibut was quoted at 8 to 10 cents. Eastern white fish sold at 10 cents to a shilling.

There was no hake in the market. Haddock brought 3 to 4 cents during the entire week.

Mackerel—Bloaters sold at 25 to 28 cents each. Mediums, 10 to 15 cents each. Small, 8 to 12 cents each. Tinkers by the barrel were quoted at $5 to $7.

Three to 5 cents was the price of pollock. The high figure prevailed during the latter part of the week.

Bluefish being scarce they were high in price. For the week the quotation on small fish was 10 cents, while large and medium sizes sold at a shilling to 14 cents.

Codfish—Steak fish was high in price sales being made at 8 to 11 cents. Market fish brought 3 to 5 cents.

236 June 29.

Porto Rico Fish Market.

San Juan, Porto Rico, June 16.—Our last was dated the 9th inst., since when we report the following arrivals of fishstuffs, viz:

Ex. strs. Brazos, Yaguez, Philadelphia from New York.

At San Juan—143 tcs. cod, 105 tcs. pollock, 1 tc. haddock, 72 tcs. fish, 25 bbls. pkid. fish, 145 bxs. salmon.

At Ponce—20 tcs. cod, 40 tcs. pollock, 124 tcs. fish, 50 bxs. bloaters.

At Mayaguez—5 tcs. pollock, 10 tcs. fish.

At Arecibo—15 tcs. codfish.

At Aguadilla—20 tcs. codfish.

Ex. British sch. Maggie Belle, from Lunenburg, N. S.

At Ponce—41 tcs. and 116 bxs. codfish, 200 bbls. split herring.

Codfish—Although stocks on hand and in transit are rather moderate, we notice a general disposition to sell on arrival at best possible price rather than holding or storing the goods. The reason may be ascribed to the small demand, the presence of old catch parcels or the hot and rainy weather prevailing. The Lunenburg cargo just arrived at Ponce is moving with difficulty at $28.50 per cask. Small Gloucester cod sells at $27, and the medium at $28.

Pollock and haddock—We maintain our quotation of $24 per cask of 448 lbs. on basis "net ex wharf."—S. Ramirez & Co.

Lubec Sardine Plant Enlarged.

The Lubec Sardine Company has just completed a two-story extension to its plant in this town. The structure is 102x60 feet, covered with galvanized iron, and although plans are to use it for manufacturing later, the building is at present devoted to storage purposes.

Landed Codfish.

The Lunenburg handliner Helen M. Colen arrived at Halifax recently with 350 quintals of salt codfish.

June 30

Kittery Lobstermen Organize.

Lobster fishermen of Kittery, York Maine and near by coast towns are forming an organization for the purpose of stopping the sale of short lobsters, a business which according to all accounts has been carried on extensively in those localities in former years. Papers are being freely signed by the fishermen pledging themselves not to take any lobsters under nine inches, and also to notify the wardens if they ascertain that any one is violating the pledge.

Captain Hurt His Hand.

The skipper of a Lunenburg banker, which got into Acquaforte, N. F., a week ago Tuesday at St. John's, N. F., arrived by train Wednesday for the hospital. While in the banks, in running, his left hand became caught in the machinery of a motor engine and was so badly crushed that it is likely it will have to be amputated.

Halibut at Portland.

Sch. Robert and Richard is at Portland this morning with 30,000 pounds fresh halibut.
